

Name

The play _____ with Christopher Columbus _____ to his knees _____ trying to convince Queen Isabella that the world is _____.
People used to _____ that the world is flat. The play was set in the 1400's so the actors _____ in the styles of the _____ worn _____ that era. Christopher _____ maps with him so that Queen Isabella could better _____ his argument.
He spoke eloquently for a long time but she and King Ferdinand _____ needed to be convinced. Christopher went over his argument once and then once _____, _____ the third time they gave him the gold he needed. With the gold he _____ his ships, the Nina, the Pinta and the Santa Maria. The play ended with Columbus landing in North America in 1492.